Foreword

We, the Life staff of 1927, present to you a review of all of our happy memories of the past school year. We have endeavored to embody in this book-the design of which is patterned after the architecture of our school-the spirit which has helped to determine our efforts and our achievements.

Dedication

In acknowledgement of his true services toward the betterment of our school and in appreciation of his sincere friendship for the students, we, the seniors of the Fond du Lac High School, dedicate this, the nineteenth volume of Life, to Superintendent Lowell P. Goodrich.

Superintendent L. P. Goodrich

The School Toast

I fonde Wight Oh Sonde Wigh!
A song to thee we raise
Oh Sondy Hight Oh Sondy High!
We lift our voice in praise.
A glorious life in thee we live,
Our grateful hearts to thee we give.
Oh Sondy High! Oh Sondy High!

The raise our banner bright.

Oh Jondy High! Oh Fondy High!

The symbol of the right.

We lift our voices loud and clear,

We sound thy praises far and near,

Oh! Fondy High! Oh Fondy High!

Oh Fondy High!

"Not Art out Nature traced these lovely lines And carved this graceful arabesque of vines."

"Our SchoolNot a building but a home for students."

"When Youth and Pleasure meet To thase the glowing hours with flying feet."

"Dreams, books, are each a world, and books we know Are a substantial world, both pure and good."

"No single parts unequally surprise Ail comes united to the admiring eves."

"Gazed round them to the left and right Edith the prophetic epe of appetite."

"Knowledge alone is the being of Nature.
Siving a soul to her manifold features
Lighting through paths of the primitive darkness
The footsteps of Truth and the vision of Song."

Senior Class History

ONFIDENT in the armor of proof" with the bright fires of anticipation flaming high, the class of '27 issued gayly forth from the battlements of summer, flying colors of American Beauty and silver amid the cheers of encouragement from their under classmates into the joys and hardships of their senior for did they "blench from the helm" but upheld took splendid former records by a notable succession of victories in the sports, and by whole hearted protecipation in all school activities. Always today the lead and setting a commendable example, this "good's to lowship" idded honor and glory to the aurely off by former graduating classes. In fact, early in their sophomore year the character and mettle of this class were manifested with a snap which was most surprising for so young a group. More over they continued to make themselves known during their jumor very by their representation in forensies, athictics, cheer leading, and organization work. And now with the flourishing of trumpets the class of '27 heralds the triumphal conclusion of another venture toward the broad highway of late leaving behind them a path strewn with scholastic honors and ith chie trophies and taking with them a deep respect for their Alma Mater and her learned taca ty and an ever-isting memory of the happiest days of their lives.

Isaac Platz: Methinkest he is of great importance. Behold! they start to play.

Lady Henning: Stop, I prithee. (Play stops) Athlestane Michler hath fallen asleep. (They rouse him and play begins again. Manis Front de Bouef hits ball for homerun; he runs after it and trips.)

Rebecca: Oh-oh!

Isaac Platz: She swoons—water, water quick! (Game stops) De Bracy rushes in and throws water in her face. Sergeant Lemieux and Lewis, heads of police department, keep throngs back. Maria Stepnoski, her hand maid, brings her back to consciousness. Play is resumed. Black Knight rushes for touchdown. He plays with De Bracy and latter breaks his collarbone. Also wins from Richet. Rebecca Husting suddenly loses love for De Bracy and decides to love Black Knight. She crowns him with wreaths of dandelions. Lifting his helmet, she discovers it is Highness King Schuessler, Grand Knight of British Empire. Lyle Trader Sousa plays national anthem "Fondy High". Mrs. Sousa, formerly Cecelia Marshall, accompanies him on portable piano. Elizabeth Nuss carries it around. Enter Sir Watson of Ivanhoe, a graceful figure clad in red outfit with large orange tie for pleasing contrast. Heralds Esteria Halverson and Agnesia Promen lead in yelling.

Marie (handmaid): Look ye, my lady. Is't not Peeke de Bois Guilbert, a romantic figure in that salmon pink flannel golf outfit, though he has slightly outgrown it.

Rebecca Husting: Keep thy eyes away, Marie. He has't broken too many hearts in love.

(Play begins—Sir Ivanhoe gracefully swings stick, and to dismay of onlookers hits Peeke de Bois Guilbert who is standing behind him idly counting people in grand-stand. He falls and Sergeant Radtke and Doctor Heath carry him off on stretcher. Two trained nurses, Margaretia Keenan and Pegette Dana, bring him to life with pulmotor. Opens his eyes and sees Nursie Keenan.

Peeke de Bois Guilbert: At last I have found the girl in my dreams. Wilt thou marry me?

Nursie Keenan: At last my dreams have come true.

(Outside trumpets loudly proclaim Sir Watson as noblest of knights conquering his foe in fiercest battle in history.)

Rowens of Downs: (Crowning him with tin can that has his golf ball in center) May thy name live forever!

Sir Watson: And thou, Rowena, fairest of maids, thou wilt marry me tomorrow.

Rowena of Downs: Ay, so t'is my wish.

Black Knight of Schuesseler: And thou, Rebecca, we shall marry tomorrow.

Rebecce of Husting: Ay, your Highness, could'st I have Winifredia Menzel, the historian, for bridesmaid.

Black Knight of Schuesseler: Anything thou wish'st.

Gurth: Look ye, Wamba- the joke's on you.

Wamba: I will yet laugh at thee. I think I will be best man.

Fitzurse (quaffing goblet): May ye all live happily!

Junior Class History

N the month of September the year 1925, about two hundred young sophomores entered the senior high school. Then our school-life was held in the balance; today we have already passed the half-way mark. We are now on the stepping stone to the greatest year in our school-life, from the place of junior to the place of senior. We look back with pride it the record of the years we have so far advanced.

The co-operation and school sparit which are so vital in the success of our school education are not lacking as our class. The class of '28, the first class since '21 to be organized throughout its high school life, has been recognized. Richard Grassy and Sylvester Stephoski represented us on the inter-scholastic debiting team, seldom has more than one justion been on the team in the same year. In basket ball we also hold our own. The inter-class basket-ball tournaments of 1925-26 and 1926-27 were won both times by the team of our class. In the tournament held this year among the galse the juniors was the pennint. What a team to represent high school in the senior year! In our sophomore year at the track meet, we won second place defeating the juniors. Many of our members hold places in various organizations throughout the school. I yer since our entrance into high school the honor roll has been led by members of our class.

Such is the history of the class of 1928! We have a great future!

Sophomore Class History

T matters not what we have done, but what we intend to do that should be of great concern. Here the motto which our class has chosen, "Push on; keep moving," applies well. It is our one desire to obtain a goal as high or even higher than the one the upper classmen are striving to attain. The Orchestra

HE orchestra this year consisted of about nineteen pieces, including four saxophones, four violins, three trumpets, two clarinets, two trombones, one French horn, one Sousaphone, drums, and piano.

The purpose of the orchestra was to study classic and popular orchestral music for the mutual benefit of the student and the school. Anyone interested could join, and one-half credit was given for a year's work. The fact that all members of the orchestra that were graduated last year have played with local, professional, or an atom orchestras since they left school proved the value of the of the training acquired in the high school organization.

The degree of musical proficiency attimed by the orchestra this year made it me of the best features of any program on which it appeared. Several programs presented in assembly called forth repeated encores and made the orchestra much more popular with the student body than ever before. A program presented at Library Hall during the latter part of the second semester was well received. It consisted of two overtures and several popular selections. The orchestra furnished music for the baccalaureate and commencement exercises and for the senior class play presented in the Roosevelt Auditorium.

Much of the increased efficiency, noted with each appearance of the orchestra, was due to the special help given the members on every Menday and Wednesday. Through this extra work it was possible to develop better technique and to correct the errors of each individual. It is hoped that next year two rehearsals a week may be held. This should make it possible to do even better work than was done this year.

Much credit must be given to Mr. Schmitz, the director of the organization, and to Mr. Merriman, the faculty advisor and business manager.

Inner Circle

HIS club is the boys' debating society of Fond du Lac High School organized to promote interest and proficiency in debating, public speaking, elocution, and parliamentary practice. Any boy interested in developing along these lines is eligible for membership.

The first important event this year was the initiation of new members. A large number of condicties was identical many of whom proved to be real assets to the club. During the first semester several debates were held on current topics. The most important of these was the Inner Circle-De Oratoribus clash in which the Inner Circle came out the victor to the tune of three to nothing. The team representing the Inner Circle was composed of Richard Grassy, Otto Jasta, and Sylvester Stephoska. The question was the same as that for the intersenolastic debates. Resolved that the Parappanes be granted complete independence immediately.

The Inner Circle was honored by having Attorney F. Ryan Duff., a former Inner Circle member, speak at one of the meetings.

In addition to these programs several debates and two mock trials were held.

The success of the Inner Circle in turning out debaters was shown by the fact that e get of the eleven members at the interscholistic detrite squid were chosen from the Inner Circle. The members were Richard Grisse. Selvester Stephose, Otto Justl, Carl Hess, William McCarthy, Richard Heath, Charles Zvnda, and Tom Dollhausen.

The Inner Circle owes much of its success to the advisor, Mr. Filber, who is also concern of the interschaustic debate terms. Mr. In beaution stant assistance me nep ful advice did much toward making the Inner Circle one of the most successful organizations of the school.

The Girls' Chorus

HE Girls' Chorus added another successful year's work to their record of the past years. This year the chorus was under the direction of Miss Wava Finger. Miss Finger was a member of the Glee Club during her high school term and a member of a similar organization while attending Ripon College.

The work of the chorus progressed well under the new leader, curiving on the spot it and work of previous years. The membership was increased to over fifty this past year. All girls having an interest and desire to develop a greater appreciation of good music and to cultivate their voices were eligible for membership. Scho astrocredit was given to those who showed a sincere interest in music by their faithful attendance and active co-operation.

Members of the chorus took put in various programs throughout the year. Before Christmas a double quarrette from the chorus uded by a hidden chorus sang Coristmas cirols in an assembly program. The double quartette was composed of the following girls. Louise Hohenset, soloist, Mariel Severin, Dorothy Daman, Fleinor Dieman, Marigaret Awde, Myrtle Brodda, Doris Anderson, and Veva Bestor. A group from the chorus also sing several numbers at the annual concert of the school band held this spring in the auditorium. The girls taking part in this program were. Leanor Deman, Muriel Severin, Dorothy Justen, Mary Marshall, Hariett Kraemer, Dorothy Dix, Virginia Efil., Medred Erickson, Jean Salter, Laura May Twoleg, Fillem Drehmel, Margaret Awde, Myrtle Brodda, Virginia Goell, Mayis Ebert, Leela Loomans, Irene Meyer, Alice Gray, Bertha Mesen, Irene Henkel, Daisy Dix, Helen Welling, and Patricia McCarthy.

The chorus this year helped sponsor a concert given by the Boys' Glee Club of Ripon College at the Roosevelt Auditorium.

As in former years, the girls of the chorus sang at the Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises.

Commercial Club

HE Commercial Club firmly established itself during the year 1926-27 as one of the most popular and active clubs of the school. The membership was steadily increased until it reached one hundred. Membership as in the past years was restricted to juniors and to seniors.

Meetings were held regularly at which time many profitable talks were given by business men of Lond da Lie. The purpose of these meetings was to acquaint the students with the ways and demands of the business world. Sales demonstrations were given by members of the salesm uship classes which proved to be interesting as well is most extractive. The club profed itself on its musical talent, and much good entertainment was furnished by the members.

The organization was active in a business as well as a social way. It conducted a movie benefit which was the most successful enterprise the club undertook. It was virtually a action in sidesman sup, and the members profitted by it. The money mised was used to equip the typing room and for general expenses of the club.

The club, for the first time, promoted a school typing contest which was held at the high school. Every student taking commercial work was allowed to enter the contest, and winners were selected from both the senior and junior classes. The contest belied to create a greater force ton commercial work than had heretofore been 4x pared. In accordance with the new reading of the school, to discontinue a lattice school are up and athletic contests, find du lac was not represented in the state commercial event this year. The class contests were very adequate substitutes.

The party which was held in January was one of the successes of the social calendar of the school.

The success of the club is an evidence of the fine spirit of co-operation and the manufestations of interest on the parts of both members of the club and commercial teachers.

De Oratoribus

FTER three years of prolific climbing De Oratoribus has reached the pinnacle of success with the reputation of being one of the most prominent and flourishing organizations of the high school. It claims the honor of having a long list of accomplishments and distinctions of which to be proud. As in former veirs De Oratoribus contributed two of her most able debaters to the teams represent ing Lond du Lac Fligh School in the Lox River Villey Contests, striged between Lond du Fac, Sliebovgan, and Ostkosh. Parlamentary debiting, donner ticks, and other for casic studies have been taken up by the club with success. That the members might become more familiar with court procedure, a mock trial was undertaken. Debates both mock and serious have been enjoyed at the various meetings while clever work in toast ing his testared the informal suppers. Besides forensic work De Oratoribas garls hive continued their annual phranthropic work during the Christmas season. They have succeeded in making their annual spring ter one of the most delightful and anticipated functions of the school year. All of the successes and aspirations of the organization are but a reflection of the splend d and instructive leadership of the faculty advisors, the Misses Kitty and Teresa O Brien, in steering the craft successfully on 'the high seas of Fducation."

Mortar Board

ORTAR BOARD! It was a name which unconsciously inspired every girl. The club closed its fifth and most successful year with an increase in membership and influence and estimated by many as the most popular and active club in the Senior High School.

The primary purpose of the club was to insure good fellowship among the girls and to increase interest along cultural and literary lines. Membership was limited to junior and senior girls who lived up to the ideals and rules of Mortar Board.

I clider's were democrace and dependability. The gale success if a conducted per meetings and the sale of football and basecitedl tackets. I ach gall knew her doty, and it was this which made Mortar Board what it is.

The girls enjoyed several social events during the year. The first was the hard-time party. The new girls who were initiated at that time will never forget the dark corridors, the trip through the underworld, and the glare of a spot light. The next event was the annual "Kids" party. "Kids" of all ages were there and enjoyed children's games. Santa was there in person and presented each "Kid" with a stocking filled with candy. Instead of a pre-lenten masquerade, the girls enjoyed a new tox, the interestion of people one handred years from now. I se girls were dressed in costumes ranging from—use your own imagination.

The greatest and most elaborate event on Mortar Board's calendar was the banquet. It was a reunion of Mortar Board girls and was held in the school cafeteria. I ist year two hundred and e.g. t guls attended, but this record was broken this year

Dramatic Club

HI Dramatic Club existed primarily to aid in the developing of the histrionic talent of its members. It also aimed to foster only the best in drama.

The requirements for club membership the past year were based on successful interpretations of characters, scenes, and situations.

Over one hundred students displayed a variety of talent in try outs. Due to the fact, however, that on var limited number could be cast for parts during the veri, only the upper classifien were granted membership. As a result, forty five new members were admitted.

Among the plays presented were the following: The Pot Boiler, The Will O' the Wisp, Two Crooks and a Lady, Sham, and Beau of Bath. The casts for each were:

Wauldly ... Fred Platz TWO CROOKS AND A LADY Dany Dix His Accomplice Margaret Keenan WILL O'THE WISP A White-faced Girl . ____ Agnes Promen A Poet's Wife _ ... Louise Hohensee SHAM Clara Genevieve Downs The Thief ____ La Verne Dowland Charles William McCarthy The Reporter Lachlan Peeke

BEAU OF BATH

Beau Nash _____ Paul Kroes The Portrait _____ Laurine Gerhard | Jack Niles |

The success of the club was due, for the most part, to the student members who bore respons bility genuinery, and to Miss Bohlman, the fieulty advisor of the Club

The Peptimist

Y their works ye shall know them."

But certainly you cannot know the Peptimist staff unless you know all of their works.

For the paper, the activities of the staff consisted in making improvements and additions. It changed the style of printing for the title of the paper from block to Old English print. It added to the paper three new columns, With the Faculty, containing biographies of the members of the educational staff, a licensed corner for little personals about the students. The Poet's Corner to encourage amateurs, and the Alumni column. The staff also secured many interesting interviews not only with such town special is Mrs. Kite Par Medicish, Ryin Duffy, and Judge Fellenz, but ilso from lecturers and entertainers in Fond du Lac for special occasions. Among these were: Miss let Wind, Inglish writer and triveller. Childs Padrick, Worlds spirit a important Mr. Camber and Ryio College Glee Cub director. I mily, the staff indexyind to give interesting and accurate accounts of all student activities in classrooms, clubs, and sports.

But the Peptimist staff with the aid of the directors of the school did not confine tself entires to the publishing of the paper, it attempted to by a mire from fooder tion for the future growth of the paper.

It created a Board of Control, consisting of the faculty advisors of the publication, the editor-in-chief, and a student representative, to manage the paper. This Board of Control was able to give, in the latter part of the year, theme credit in English for Peptimist work. It also chose a staff to publish the first issue of the paper next fall.

The Peptimist secured, as a workshop for the year, room 220, and needless to say, to seem had a cut newspaper of economic before the year was ever as a roult of work done in it.

Finally, for the first time in the history of the paper, a Peptimist emblem was chosen. This consisted of a shield on which were an inkwell, two quill pens, and the letter "p".

Der Deutsche Verein

"Immer langsam voran, Immer langsam voran, Dasz Der Deutsche Verein, Nach vorn Kommen kann!"

HIS slogan reveals that the German Club was alive and progressive. Since its reorganization, four years ago, it has helped the German students to learn more about the life, history, and art of the people whose language they were studying. The membership was open to any student studying German or who had studied it previously.

Besides the literary and musical programs held after school, there were three outstanding social events during the year. They were the Christmus party, the Mardi Gras-Carnival, and the Spring banquet.

The Christmas party this year was a decided success. A short, two act Creman play, Die Wette, was given.

A benefited Weign chistian decorated the stage; Knecht Rass chi appearanted by William Weddig, distributed cardy and Lits. The German folk dances and German Christmas songs were other interesting features on the program.

On March first the club united with the Iberian Club in a pre-lenten carnival, the Mudi Crass. Prizes were given for the most typical French, Spanish, and German costumes.

According to a custom followed each spring a supper was served in the cafeteria. There was as always a delicious German mena. German songs, toasts, and stunts for nished much amusement.

The programs at the regular meetings were always interesting. The lantern slide views of Germany, the musical program in honor of the Beethoven Centennial, and the Heine program were among the outstanding meetings of the year.

Miss Waters and Miss Fox were the faculty advisors of the Verein.

The Science Club

HISI are the days of science triumphant. Men have delved so deeply into the workings of science in nature that they are now regulating almost all human activities by its teachings—to our tremendous advantage.

It is not strange than that we find many young students who are drawn by the line of so once and unsitisfied by all that their teachers can give them in requilar class work. The members of the Science Club are recruited from this group.

The aim of the club was to give every member an opportunity to cultivate that natural interest by active participation in its programs. Membership was limited to hits. In bear give for membership, a student had to have a grade of cighty fixe for one semester's work in science. At the end of one semester, students who failed to take a creditable part in the work were dismissed from the clab. After two consecutive in sences from meetings, the student forfeited his membership.

Its members prinned and prepared their own programs, ender teacher guidance, and rurely called on oursiders. Some programs consisted of reports of new and interesting scientific developments, token from the literature of the subject, by the members themselves. At other meetings experiments or the results of experiments were shown and discussed. Again slides on scientific subjects were shown. On account of face of time, excursions by the club were rarely undertaken.

The Science Club has never been a social organization; that is, it never has held a meeting to structly seem purposes. It was the technique its officers and advisors that the social needs of its members could be taken care of better in other ways.

The club was particularly fortunate in its officers this year. Due to their energy and zeal, its usefulness and influence were greatly extended.

The members of the faculty who helped direct the club this year were Mr. O'Connor and Mr. Jones.

Classical Club

USI gize on trese so called Romans! Would that Cievir were here to gize on them also—and if he could be present, don't you think his chest would swell at the first glance of his impersonators? This is a scene from A Cure for Bores, one of the plays given in Latin and English at the Saturnalia, December 18. It claws in the foregraind, Marcas Richard Grassy) and Quiatus (George Calvy bored by each other's task, were tasely misinformed by the three other vocans Marcain (Incodor: Forenza, Godins (Caude Lyneis), and Fueus Toc Piloa) of each other's deafness. You can well magine that the rud enec is well as the three jokers were highly amused.

The other play was A Day Without Latin showing how many of our English words are derived from Latin. The boy who detested Latin and could not see its useful side, was bab Brown, acted by I bel I tile with her portowed togs. I can Dieman was his sister Alice. Mrs. Brown, (Harriett Kraemer), was his mother. Helen Kremer eleverly impersonated Mr. Brown, the father. During the play, the characters read from the temspaper, tacts good and bid, about their old scroolmates was extremed roared their approval.

Everyone fully enjoyed 1926 in the classical club and the seniors especially will remit be at a good to account of the lenders up of the first transvirate of the club known as Ceciha Marshall, Gordon O'Brian, and George Calvy.

The purpose of the organization was to acquaint the students more fully with the Roman laws, customs, methods of election, than it was possible to do in class. Any student who was taking or had taken Latin was eligible.

Because of our excess money in the treasury, refreshments were served at all the meetings. Very odd to say, no one missed a meeting. Instead of our usual picnic, the students of the Arnesd instructed the others in the mysteries of the Underworld.

The Iberians

HE French and Spanish Clubs tried a new plan this year when the two organizations, which had so long existed separately, united. Under this arrangement more meetings and activities than before were possible.

The Iberians was the name chosen by the students for their joint club. The name originated from the fact that the periods and which Span and Ermee form the greater part was called thera. Since the students are studying tred in analysis of these two nations, they selected their ancient name on the suggestion of Emil Lorenz.

The purpose of the club was to strengthen the interest developed in the classroom concerning the language and customs of the countries.

VI who were taking I rench and Spanish or who had had one year of either were eligible for membership.

The members of the club presented a very interesting assembly program, in which table inx of famous characters, readings and reports, breach and Spanish songs were very interesting features.

A talk by Mass Roberts in which she told of her trip to Erinec was one of the most interesting programs of the meetings this year. All who heard her might really believe that they themselves had been to France.

Among the activities were the innual plense and sleep, ride party. The men bers of Der Deutscher Verein again joined. The flocians in the Maid, Gras celebration. This corresponds to the carmival celebrated just before Lent in Spain and France. It was, as usual, the outstanding event of the year.

The club very fortunately has Miss Elms and Miss Fox for advisors.

The Band

HE Band proved to be a distinct asset to the school. It played at practically all basket-ball and football games held in Fond du Lac, and in addition went to Oshkosh for the annual football and basket-ball clashes.

It was organized to offer musical instruction and to assist at any special occasion. Any one interested could join. A half credit was given for a year's work.

During the course of the year in addition to playing at various basketball and tootball cames several short concerts were given in the gymnasium and one was presented before the Roosevelt assembly.

The membership averaged about fifty-six for the entire season.

The fourth annual concert was successfully presented to a large attendance in the Roosevelt Auditorium on Mirch 1. The program consisted of overtures, marches, novelties, and two marimba solos.

The profit cleared from this concert went into the treasury to be used to defray transportation expenses and possibly toward the purchase of new instruments at some time in the near future.

Several new instruments appeared this year. For the first time since its organization, the band had a marimba included in its instrumentation. It was played by Lyle Trader, solo drummer of the band.

The band did not go to the State Bind. Fournament in accordance with the policy of the school this year.

The members were again under the able conduction of Mr. Joseph Schmitz, while Mr. Merriman was faculty advisor and business manager.

Special help classes were held every Monday and Wednesday under the personal surpervision of Mr. Schmitz.

The Home Economics Department

IFICHNOY and Economy" was the slogan supported, practiced, and attained by the Home Economics department under the supervision of Miss Margaret Minton during the year of 1926-27.

A peep at any time into the shining kitchens, whose ovens could not contine the delicious appetizing odors, or into the bright sewing rooms fairly shricking their diligent activity by the humming of the sewing machines and the endless snipping of seissors prove the degree of perfection attained. The cooking classes have served breakfasts, luncheous, and dinners during the year. Moreover, in the kitchens a most successful system of housekeeping has been established by Miss Minton whereby the girls took care of all cleaning and laundry incurred as well as the cooking, and which reduced the cost of operation to practically nothing. By this system all of the culmary results are turned over to the cafeteria. Beside all forms of plain sewing, the sewing classes also effectively undertook the problem of renovation and millinery. A demonstration of the combined efforts of the department was displayed at a most successful exhibition and tea staged in December. Other teas were given during the spring to faculty members while a movie benefit was sponsored in March, the proceeds of which were devoted to the purchasing of further equipment. Much credit is due the department for the splendid progress which has been made during the first year of actual work.

Matinee Dances

THE tall of the year a Brunswick pinatrope was purchased by the school to take the place of an orchestra. Not only has the panatrope increased the number of matinee dances, but it has also served as an indispensable factor at all class parties and club dances. The matinee dances have always been well attended by the dance lovers of all ages. Even the teachers found solve in dincing to the invigorating jazz masse after school hours. And what dancing was seen! Not two couples dinced thise, and more than one interested spectator was amused by the antics performed by some of the dincers. As there is a variety of records, music of every description was played. East a slow dreamy waltz; then a quick catching jazz piece was heard.

The matinee dinces did more than amuse and entertain us. They helped to pay for the paratrope and to ruse funds for Itte, our school annual. They also served as an inter-class mixer, because all of the students were allowed to attend. And attend they did. The students like to dance and because they do the panatrope was purchased. Is not this proof enough that the school is doing all it possibly can to provide not only for the intellectual but also for the social welfare of the students?

RICHARD GRASSFY

Related Crasses owes his place on the term to his unusual ability to think logically and to express himself clearly. His arguments were expressed in a style that was both convincing and impressive.

OTTO JUSTI

Although this was his first year in intersecolistic debating. Otto Justi demonstrated the fact that he is fully qualified for his position. His earnty of expression and force fulness of argument did much to advance the case of his team.

SYLVESTER STEPNOSKI

Sy vester Stepposki's cutstanding characteristic is his ability to think clearly and legicily. This justify combined with his fluency of expression, made him one of the outstanding speakers of the debate.

TOM DOLLHOUSEN

In spite of the fact that Tom Dollhousen did not have an opportunity to take part in the debits, he nevertheess displayed great ability in developing his points. He will be a great asset to the team next year.

RICHARD HEATH

Richard Heath's best qualities lie in his ability to express himself clearly and in his thorough knowledge of the subject. Although this is his second year in forensess it is the first time he has had an opportunity to appear on the home platform.

CHARLES HESS

Notwithstanding the fact that this is his first year in debating. Charles Hess has shown that he possesses great ability is a forceful speaker. The did much to build up his own case and to point out the fallacies in the arguments of his opponents.

WILLIAM McCARTHY

The experience that William McCarthy gained last year at Marinette stood him in good stead in his debating this year. He showed his capability of discovering the facts to support his contentions and to express those facts to the audience in a convincing manner.

WINH RED MENZEL

Although she did not have the opportunity of demonstrating her ability in actual debite. Winited Menzel exhibited a marked ability in the reading and under standing of the question.

The Goose Hangs High

XCIPHONAL talent together with a most detailed perfection in acting featured the successful production of The Coose Hange High, a delightful farce comedy by Louis Beach, presented by the class of 1927 in the Roosevelt Auditorium June 7. Particular skill was displayed in the interpretations of the typical American characters. A splendid opportunity for this type of acting was inforded in the portraval of normal tamily life which was realistically enacted by Margaret and Freelin Rosenberg, the characteristic well to do parents, and by Genevice Downs and Charles Hess, the twins and likewise the exact specimens of American college youth. In fact it is about the actions of this family and their friends that the intensely amusing and bailing plot is interwoven. The great success of this production was the best proof of the long bours of study and practice on the part of the actions and the splendid patience and skill of the director, Miss Meta Bohlman.

Class Parties

GINIRAL prevalence of school spirit, co-operation, and gavety was found in the class parties held this year in the school gymnasium. All of the mixers were successful in that they accorrelished what trey wished to, numely, to acquaint the steachts with one another. At all of the parties except the sense banquet, the paratrope furnished the music for the dimeers. The careteria also played an important part, for after the dimeing there was always at the eaference and at ay of food waiting the pleasure-seekers.

The senior class mixer, held before Christmas, was the first event on the school's social calendar. The feature of the evening's program was a kiddy-car race which brought the seniors back to their childhood days for a short time. The party was well attended and all entered into its spirit.

The junior party, held January 22, witnessed perhaps the greatest spirit of revelry. The large gymensium was made gas with brightly council balloons, surpentine, and hundreds of bags. An elimination dance, spot dance, and various other novelty dances filled the evening's program.

The party, given by the sophomore class, tho not largely attended was successful in a very different man or. It proved that there are among this class some very worth while sophomores who stand ready to back their class in any undertaking. The party facked the usual program of prize dances but in its place were sever I solo dances and readings given by members of the sophomore class.

About two hundred seniors attended the banquet at the Retlaw Hotel, April 28. An orenestation of a stedents from high school farmshed the masse. The decorations were carried out in the class colors, American becats and silver. Addresses were given by Paul Kroes, class president, Miss Waters, Mr. Thiesen, and Mr. Goodrich; Helen Kremer read the class prophecy, and Winifred Menzel read the class history.

COACH E. D. FRUTH

Director of Athletics

S DIRECTOR of Fond du Lac's athletics and as coach of track and basket-ball, Edward D. Fruth is kept busy guiding the Red and White's sport destinies. Through his diligent efforts he has established Fond du Lac as the most feared school in the state's basket-ball circles.

Daring Fruth's acity regime is couch, Ford du fac his met with unpaidle led success in bisket by a win agathree state champoniships, and winning in the district teer numeris, first place, feur times, second place once, third place, twice and toarth place, once. Besides bying awarded these conference honers, his terms have with one fast place and one second in the Ripon invitational tournaments.

Since the revival of track last year with Fruth as mentor, Fond du Lac has shown great promise in this regard.

Londy's Milited Man ilways calls forth a spent of hight and hearty compentation from the ads mater him, therefore he always places a well drilled highting term upon the floor. He has a structed and developed players who proudly acknowledge his great mess, pointing to him as the man who made them what they are. He has given Lond la Lie the failest measure of his devotion. He has nobly succeeded in his task. He has glorified Fond du Lac's name.

F. F. BAKER Football Coach

Football Coach

ITH the completion of the past season, Elmer F. Baker concluded his third successful year of conscientious effort as Fondy High's gridiron monitor.

In 1921 Mr. Baker came to Fond du Lac from Dubuque College, Iowa, where he had for three years starred as a lineman on several championship teams. During the following two years Baker assumed the position of assistant coach to E. D. Fruth who at that time guided the Red and White's destinies. In 1923 he successfully filled the role of assistant coach to T. E. Royal, a former Illinois backfield star, and in 1924, with Royal's departure, he became head coach. With the aid of Fruth he turned out a truly successful football machine, a machine characteristic of Fondy's glorious past. 1925 found Baker in the same position, earnestly drilling his men day after day and again producing a successful football squad.

When the 1926 football season rolled into prominence, Baker again found himself confronted by the same problem—the necessity of creating a successful team from light, fast material. Doggedly meeting his severe demands, he moulded a fighting team which, although the lightest in the Conference, was widely feared by its opponents who realized that its speed and the results of its instructor's efforts were not to be denied with ease.

With Elmer F. Baker to guide its course, Fondy High is assured of future success on the gridiron.

ROBERT E. DUNCAN

Assistant Coach

athletic direction in Listern schools, his clearly evidenced the promise of success in the future. Previous to his activities in the Last, Danein attended the University of low a where he starred in both football and track. "Dune's work during his first season consisted chiefly in the development of the ends and in partial future, of the back field men. In this task he met with success, fond du Lie's wingmen and back field drawing widespread attention throughout the Lox River Victor. Because of the marked impressions of ability and success with which Dunean's work has been marked, we predict a brilliant future for him.

The Football Squad

Giebel, an all-round fullback, made some lengthy gains.

Schuessler, a speedy end, cut down his man on offense and drove in fer a good tack e

Pecke, an excellent punter, was a good man to carry the ball through.

Michler, at end, cut down his opponent in short time.

Aspatore, a veritable stone wall, had few plays directed toward him.

Dobyns, at guard, blocked off his man and tackled hard.

Wilson, a consistent back, tackled and blocked equally as well.

McMillan, playing end, scored forward passes successfully.

Anderson, a quick and clever end, always kept his man blocked in.

Watson, starring at quarterback, shot his punts and forward passes with great accuracy.

Manis, a clever blocker and tackler, was a valuable cog in Fondy's machine.

Hill, at halfback, carried the ball through with plenty of speed.

Clifford Johnson, an excellent tackler, was responsible for many gains.

Lewis, a sure guard, was good in defense work.

Kruck, a consistent center, followed the ball every moment.

Merxensperger, at guard held his part of the line, both on offense and defense

Halfman, with pep and fight, carried the ball through and tackled fiercely.

Bingen, a sturdy guard, let few men get past him.

Musolf, at center, was always alert and full of determination.

Hansen, a fine running back with a splendid open field manner, is a sure tackler.

ABI MANIS Retiring Captain

Abe Manis is a veteran in high school athletics. For the past three years he has been a valuable member of both the basketball and football teams. Much credit is due him for the manner in which he captained the team this year. Abe has much skill and ability as a right tackle; he has been one of the cleanest fighting linemen Fondy high has ever known. Fondy will not soon forget Captain Manis.

ROLAND HALFMAN
Captain-Elect

During the coming year Fond du Lac High ought to have a successful season. With a leader like Roland Halfman the expectations of football fans will, no doubt, be realized. Although this is his first year on the team, Rolly has distinguished himself to a marked degree. His ability to receive forward passes and to get his man is known to all. If Rolly keeps on playing as he has this year, we predict a great future for him.

Fond du Lac on the Gridiron

NE victory, one tie, and five losses is the record established by Fond du Lac High's 1926 football team. The season, however, had its redeeming features. A tie game with Oshkosh is not to be taken lightly since Oshkosh was the only conference team to score upon Marinette's great state-championship eleven. The other recomplishment was the team's consistent display of undamnted lighting spirit. Although strugg og against great odds. Coach Baker's aggregation distinguished itself by its unparalleled fight and earnestness.

After taking 1.7 to 2 defeat from the heavy, hard charging Wayland Academy cleven, Lond du Lac opened the Conterence season with a 20 to 6 set back from East Green Bay's strong organization. Both games were played upon muddy fields, a fact which lundered Lond dar Lac's open attack and greatly aided the opponents famous plunging tactics.

Upon the following Saturday, the squad won its only victory, trampling Appleton to the tune of 19 to 1. I trly in the game Appleton scored, interecting a Fond du Lac pass and racing for a touch-down. Fond du Lac, not to be downed, came back with a bulliant rally ind, scoring three touchdowns, swept into a decisive lead watch was retained. Smooth co-ordination within and between all departments resulted in the win, ill cleven men working as one unit. Appleton had a good team, but a few conference clevens could have stood up before I and du I ie's withering of fense as it was functioning on that day.

Then followed the disastrous Minitowoc and Shebovgin gimes. In both, Lond da Lac, the victim of unfortunite breiks, was defeated. In the Minitowoc gime, Hinsen's 80 yard run for a touchdown and Witson's goal after the touchdown saved Londy from a white wishing. The litter game wis "anybody's" gime with Shebovgin tiking the breaks and winning. On several occasions Lond da Lac carried the ball deep into the opponents' territory only to lose it through all fortune and by the scinticst of mirgins. The scores were 13 to 7 and 6 to 0 respectively.

INALLY the seison's great event, the Oshkosh gime, arrived. Oshkosh scored first, pushing over a touchdown in the early manutes of pray. In the second quarter, Fond du Lac clearly outplayed Oshkosh and, through the medium of a running attack coupled with an unstoppable aerial drive, scored 13 points to go into the sead. In the second half Oshkosh fied the score. This ended the scoring, the remainder of the game being played with the ball in mid-field, neither term having any advantage. Lond da Lac played Oslakosh to a standstill and at times out. played them. A brilliant aerial attack turned the tide for the Red and White and marked it as the superior team.

In the final game of the season West Green Bay defeated Fond du Lac by a 20 to 0 score. Londy's cids held West Green Biy's powerful eleven to a scoreless tie in the first half, but the tremendous odds of weight and the weather conditions finally had their effects. Lond du Lie was slowly passed backward, fighting every meli of the way, a deletted but not a besten term. The game was played on a soggy water soaked gridiron which seriously hampered Fond du Lac's speed.

The season, not a success in respect to records, was a grand triumph in the determination, gift, and spir t of the players. Londy's grid fon warriors won praise through cut the Lox River Villey. Hinsen was placed at a lia frack position on the second an conference term Cipties Manis, Aspitore, and Witson were given special mention for the first team.

Fond du Lac High loses this year 11 star letter men in the persons of Captain Min's, Hinsen, Bangen, Johnson, Lewis, McMillan, Schuesser, Pecke, Michael, Anderson, and H. I. There w. I be but seven veterins left. Captum etet Haltman, Kraek, W. Ison, Aspatore, Muso t, Meixensperger, and Dobyns. However, there will be abundant mexperienced materal since practically 1, 11 the second squad will return. Considering Coach Biker's and Assisting Coach Dancin's abouties, and the confector and spirit of those who remain, we are inclined to feel optimistic in regard to next veir's prespects. in football.

DICK WATSON
Captain

Captain Dick Watson

HIS year Dick Watson had the honor of captaining the Fox River Valley champions. Besides being a quick and fighting forward, Dick has shown marked ability as a leader. The very fact that the term went through the season was now victories to one defeat proves his ability. After being one of Coach Fruth's dependable men for the past three vers, Dick completes his high school course with the class of '27. He has not, however, contined his efforts only to basket ball, for the pist two years he has been playing quarterback in football Dick's record in Fondy athletics will always be remembered.

ARTHUR IMMEL
Captain-Elect

Captain-Elect Arthur Immel

ATS off to the captain of 1927-28! Art deserves all the honor that the captaincy carries. He is a fighter that never quits, a clean player, a true sportsman, one whom all the members of the team respect. Art is the man we expect to lead his men to another conference championship. When Art is not playing basketball he is trying to tune in K. F. I. on a loud speaker with one tube. More power to you, Art!

Valley Champions

OX RIVER VALLEY Conference Champions!

This is the enviable title of Coach Fruth's 1926-27 cagers. Like some of the great teams of past seasons Fond du Lac's present team has gone through the year practically undefeated. Records like this have not been uncommen in the last six or seven years. And along comes another Froth coached team, a squad which has established a record that rivels the past successes. I find du Lac's schedule, embrioing fourteen hard games with no soft spots, was unquestionably the stiffest in the Villey Conference. The record speaks for itself. Lond do Lie took on all comers and manifested to them that she was the real Valley Champion.

The thann and Appleton ware the only teams expable of detecting the Littlimen. The fermer veteran term proved too much for Fend du Fac figliting voungsters. The latter game, however, was invoody's victory up to the list minute of play when Apple ton pushed in a brace of field goals and stilled out the remining time. But these two losses may be termed the breaks. I and do Lac should be proud of its championship team.

I he preliminary season opened with Lond du lite administering a 31 to 7 trouncing to the highly touted Oslikush Normal Reserves, followed by a 19 to 5 win from West Bend.

The following tilts six the Red and White deteated 26 to 13 by the slummi and scoring 18 to 13 and 30 to 21 was over West and East Green Bay respectively in the first conference games.

The next fray was an overtime game with Appleton. The game was a nip and tuck after with Lond du Lac finally emerging victorious 22 to 21. Then came the Oshkosh game. The contest was a failure as a characteristic Londy Oshkosh combat. The edge was too decisive. Find do I to was too strong. The final score was 22 to 11

FP THOUGHT!

The following week saw another demonstration of Fond du Fie's power. Mannette falling under her superior work to the tune of 30 to 14.

The Visco Championship rested upon the next contest, the first Manitowoc game. A record crowd saw Fond du Lac win the best game and most terrific battle ever played in the Senior Gym. The final score was 17 to 16.

The subsequent game, another crucial struggle, was too much for Fond du Lac. Appleton exect out a 22 to 19 win. This defect only provided an additional spur. With the greater part of the season behand her, Fond da I is faced down the home stretch, winning seccessive games from Oshkosh, Manitowoc, and the final game from Shebov gan. The scores were 25 to 12, 26 to 19, and 23 to 9. Thus did Fond du Lac win the Valley Conference Championship through her superior skell, fight, and about Fond du Lac's players won praise and recognition from every quarter. Manis was the unanimitus choice for the center position and capturies of the method all conference five. The ilso ranked as the fifth highest scorer in the conference, caging 21 field goals and 18 free throws for 6) points. Captum Watson and Grebel were chosen left forward and right goard respectively on the second all conference squad. Hinson was given honorable ment on. The list three privers mentioned also ranked high in the list of scorers. Cookson, Born, and Captun elect Imme, who alternated at the other for ward position, afteough not ranked as all-conference men, drew favorable comment from critics. In general, Captun Watson, Manis, and Habson lived up to their fine reputations of past veirs and were feired and respected men. Caebel, Cookson, Born, and Immel in their fast veir showed the effects of Truth's tatecage and developed rapidly.

The season was a grand success in every respect; the players tought hard, they want their hard tought games, they earned the Lox River Viley Conference Champio ish p, what more could be asked of them?

OUT OF BOUNDS.

HANSIN-GUARD

I ou, the third three letter man of Fondy's quintet, had the rare genius of guarding his man, as only Lou could, and for diversion, sliding down to Fondy's basket and scoring a few baskets to help along the cause. During Lou's three years of guarding Fondy's basket, he has been chosen on various district and valley conference all star selections. Lou will always be remembered as one who gave the best he had in every game.

TRANK COOKSON-FORWARD

Cookie, a new man to the team this year, became eligible for the last five conference games. Speed was his middle name. Wherever the basket-ball was seen on the court, Cookie was seen. He followed the ball like a hound to rabbits. Cookie's corkscrew shots from under the basket kept the fans in certary. His ability in shooting baskets and free throws helped materially in Fondy's race for the championship.

Hansen - Guard

brank Cookson Lorward

PLAY THRU DEFENSE

BOB BORN-FORWARD

Bob was the sharpshooter in the team. He was on the squad last year and from the beginning of this season became a fixture as the eagle-eyed forward. Bob's big delight was to draw away to the side of the court and pop in medium long shots. Bob will always be remembered by the basket-ball fans as "that blackhaired guy who dropped 'em in from the corner,"

MANIS-CENTER

Peerless center for three years! In Abe's three years of high school competition, he has been a marked man in all games, feared by all Valley Conference opponents for his scoring ability. Abe's accuracy in free throws won many close battles this season. Sport writers each year have placed Abe on the all conference selection.

LEO GIEBLI—GUARD AND CENTER

Leo, although a new man this year, from the standpoint of playing ability was a veteran in every respect. Leo was the speed guard of the conference. Although playing a guard position he was a constant threat in scoring. In conference standing Giebel rated near the top of the list in points scored. Leo was also an all conference selection. In Giebel and Hanson Coach Fruth has lost the best scoring guards in the conference.

Fond du Lac

On the Cinder Track

School in the preliminary dual track and field meets, Fond du Lac's track aspirants have shown great promise.

On April 23 Fond du Lac met the strong Wayland Academy squad and was defected 98 to 18. Without a death the Red and White was competing above its class; however the Fond du Lac lads turned in several fine performances.

Fond du I ac scored as follows:

Mile Run: Ottery first, Glazier third.

One-half mile run: Kennedy first, La Borde second.

440 yd. dash: Pecke second.

120 yd. High Hurdles: Gallelas third. High Jump: Peeke tied for third.

On the following Saturday, April 30, the Red and White lost a very close meet to Oshkosh High at Ingalls Field, Ripon. The score was 66 to 51.

Fond du Lac collected four first places and made a clean sweep of three events; namely, the mile run, the 440 yd. dash, and the javelin throw.

Fond du Lac's entrants placed as follows:

100 yd. dash: Lang second.

440 yd. dash: Zangle first, Hartmann second, and Hill third. Time 59.1 seconds.

Shot Put: Bingen second.

Pole Vault: Steinbarth second, Cookson third.

Mile Run: Ottery first, Aigner second, and Glazier third. Time: 5 minutes 13.5 seconds.

Discus Throw: Nolan second. High Jump: Cookson second.

Half Mile Run: Kennedy first, Zynda third. Time: 2 minutes 22 seconds.

220 yd. Low Hurdles: Calvy third.

Javelin Throw: Andrew first, Zynda second, and Cookson third. 143 feet 7 inches.

Broad Jump: Cookson third.

At the present time the squad is drilling hard for the coming Manitowoc relays and Conference meet which are to be held soon. Fond du lac will send a squad to each meet and the prospects for a high rating are fine.

In as much as spring athletics was re-established last year and as the facilities and equipment are somewhat below other setaods' facilities, fine progress has been made in track. Fond du Lac should and can be proud of its track squad.

Inter-class Basket-ball

MERGING from a series of victories in which they overcame all opposition, the junior team is now in possession of the championship of the annual interclass basket ball tracas. The junior team, an unusually strong one this year, was certoally describing of winning first place. No break of form was shown by the juniors in any game. In every encounter the boys exhibited their same high class type of ball.

We, naturally, after hearing of a winning team inquire as to the ability of the coach. Coach Hoff most assured vits responsible in a large part for the successful out come of the juniors. He inspired imong his men a cooperation that is the keynote of team work. Being amiable and having a good knowledge of basket bad, he was able to develop a winning team.

Girls' Basket-ball

FIE girls' basket-ball season closed with the junior girls as basket-ball champions for the year 1927. Led by Mary Marshall, the juniors succeeded in avenging themselves on the seniors for their defeat in volley ball. Accurate, clean, and swift playing enabled the juniors to detat the seniors and sophomores in all the games. Judging from the playing of the juniors much might be expected from them in their final year.

About one hundred and ten girls turned out for every call to basket-ball practice. The girls worked hard this year to bring the at initial of girls basket ball up to a proper place in the biglised ool. Although this wonly the second year that the girls like hid the opportunity to play basket-ball, they have made a wonderful showing.

The inter-class basket-ball games were worked up into a round robin tournament. Therefore teams took part in the tournament. For every game won two points were awarded the winning team. For each game tied, a point was given to each team. Fifty-six games were prived during the season. The teams idopted very elever and intersting names seek as, Spectars, Spectars, Hobocs, Alley Rats, and Rinkydanes. The companies of the tournament, the Alley Rats, were captained by Jeanette Jenkyns.

Girls' Volley Ball

AKING advantage of the splendid opportunities offered them, the girls have displayed splendid athletic ability. They have broadened their activities to a noticeable degree, having introduced volley ball into their line of sports.

Inter-class volley ball games opened the fall season for the girls. Although this is the first year the girls have played volley ball, excellent material was found.

The senior team, ably captained by Vanas Ristau, won the title of Girls' Volley Ball Champons. Captum Ristau works in all bound athlete, includes a song her sports tennis, basket-ball, swimming, hiking, and baseball. Commendation is due the junior and senior captus for the interest and capture to displaced in the girls which featured the winter months of the year.

The spring season was given over to tennis, track, and baseball. The Tennis Club was reorganized, all girls who were unable to play were taught the game. Inter-class meets were held and attracted much attention. Very interesting work was done in the logon of some of the classes. In spring classes were held in the grove in the back of the school.

Credit for the advancement made in the girls' athletics is due to Miss Hedwig Carlson, instructor and coach. Under her careful and excellent training, the girls have progressed. Profiting from this year sepand decreting fond do his mix look to wind to a bright a discressful future in the case branch of the physical edication depictment.

Our Cheer Leaders

are the four persons who have merited and received the school's finest admiration and respect. On "Bud" Downs, Agnes Promen, Esther Halverson, and Paul Gormican has rested the responsibility of leading the cheering of Fondy High. Very seldem has school spirit been brought forth as effectively and strongly as it has been during the pist year. The term of cheer readers this year has exemplified the very spirit of what real school enthusiasm should mean.

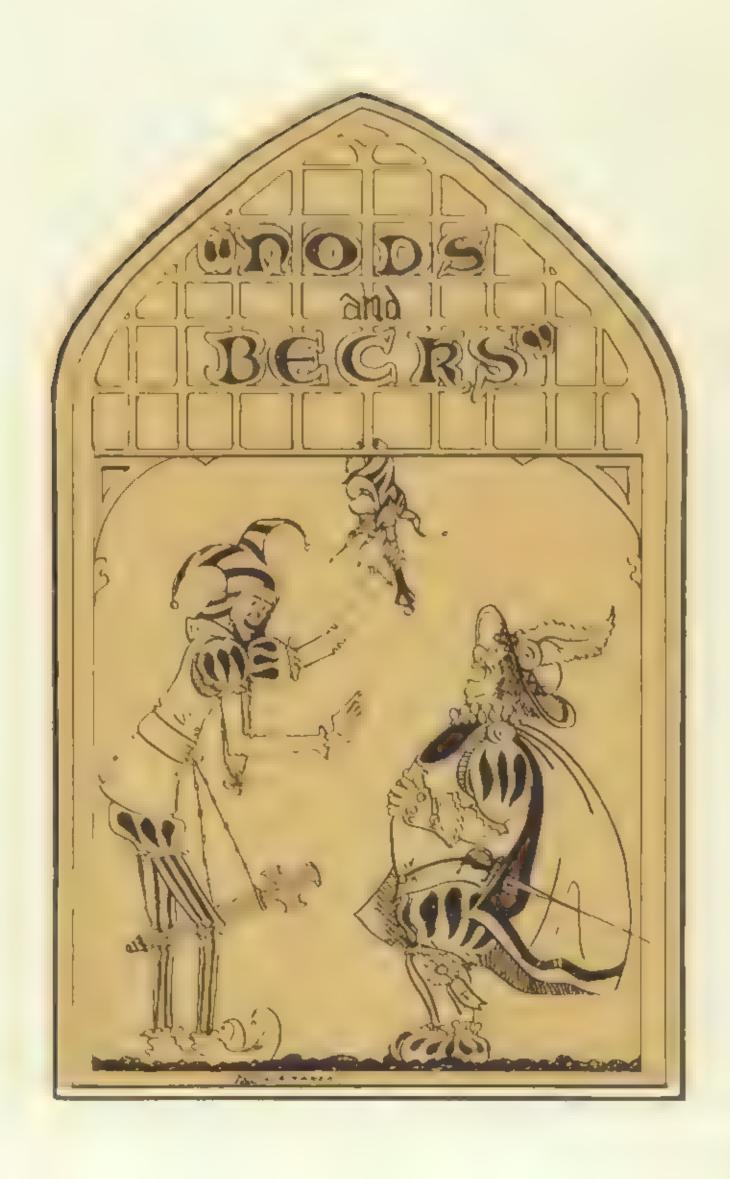

Esther Halverson, cheer leader in chief, performed her duties in a most noteworthy style. Esther surely will be missed when she leaves. It will be hard to duplicate a leader of her type.

Agnes Promen, another senior, should be highly praised for the work she accomplished as one of the leaders. She was peppy and an interested follower of the school sports. She and Esther worked well together as team mates. High credit certainly is due both of them.

"Bud" Downs and Paul Gormican although acting as leaders for their first year disported themselves like veterans. Both worked earnestly and heartily for the promotion of school spirit. They should make a valuable pair in Fondy's cheering section next year.

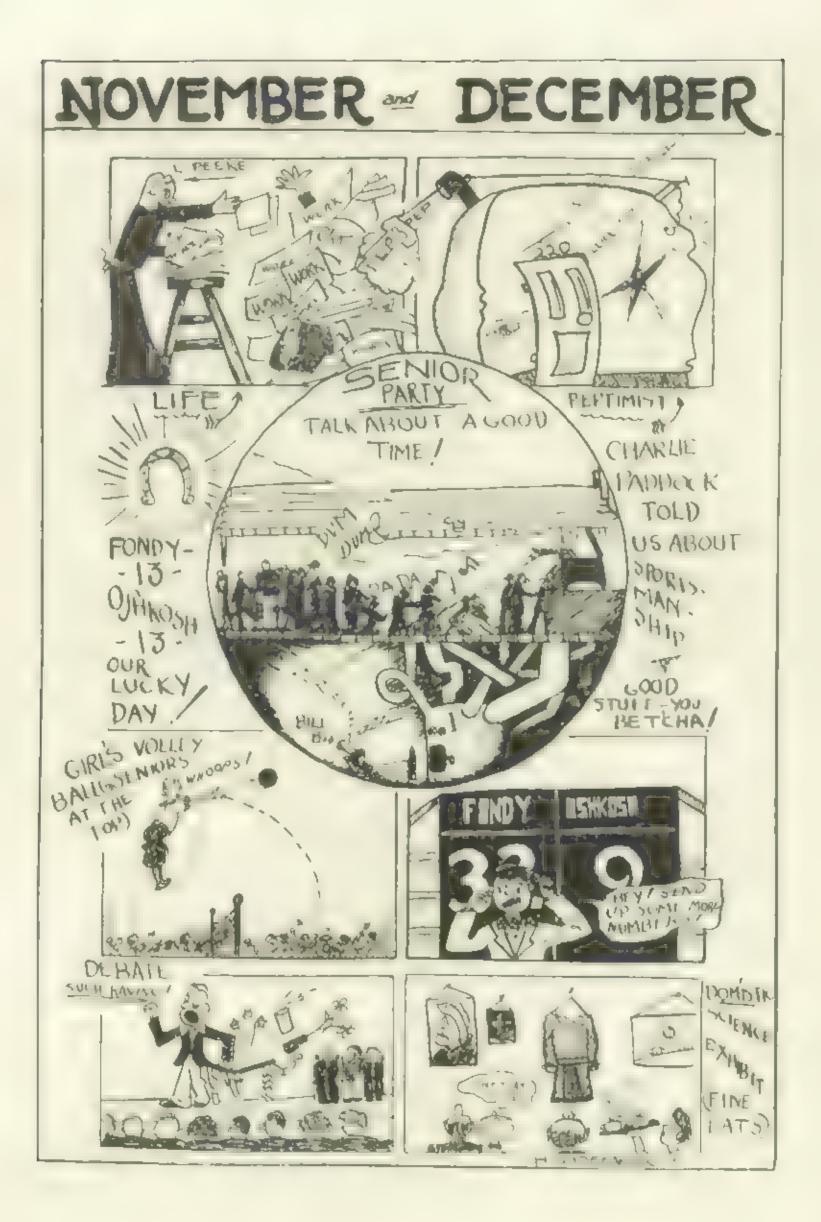

Undoubtedly much of the success of the 1927 athletic schedule was due to the whole hearted support of Landy's student to dy under the capable garrance of these capable cheer leaders.

E is for Heister, the boy with the bluff, Ask him a question and he'll stuff you sure 'nuff, F is for Fremont as free as you please, If he'd stop that giddiness we'd be at ease. G is for George, they call him Pick Which shows his Irish like every Mick. Henry is a "Man of the world" guy, With the girls he's not a bit shy. I is for Immel, a popular lad, He maketh the hearts of all girls glad. Then comes Janet, lively and gay, When she opens her mouth, none knows what she'll say, K is for Kurt, that dear little boy, All he needs is a doll for his plaything and toy. The name of Little doesn't suit Isabel at all, She walks like a queen so stately and tall. M is for Mary and Morrie too, Wonder if he'll caddie for her soon? N is for Niles a witty young lad, In entertaining he isn't at all bad. O is for Oswald, Elaine's mythical sheik, When she thinks of him, her heart sure does beat. P is for Patty Mac, a lassie so gay, With a certain young man she'd dance all day. Q is for Quietness which the Juniors lack, But in Athletics they are there with a snap. R is for Roland our captain to be, In football he shines as we soon shall see. S is for Serry whose smile is so gay, Brightens us up on any dark day. T is for Tommy, Oh! Boy, what a line, He is always saying "Will you be mine?" U is for utility, which the Juniors have none. V is for vanity which most Juniors lack, By the time they are Seniors they will all have the knack. W is for Whalen so happy and gay, Lin smiles and giggles the livelong day. X is the sign that is used at the end, Of Joe Pilon's letters to our Harriet friend. Z is for Zarbuck, that "I know" child. Just get her stirred up and Oh! she is wild.

By gosh, we need Dick Watson,
And Louie Hanson, too,
What will we do by next year,
When both of them are through?
That's basket ball and foot ball;
But just what will we do?
We need not only them
But Peeke and Paul Kroes, too.
Our team is just a fine one,
Our Peptimist's nice, too,
But Seniors, oh, dear Seniors,
How we will be needing you!

Just because you're to tell about the "Know Nothing Party," you need not make it a biography, Louie (Hansen).

When asked to give the definition of a barbarian, G. O'Brian answered, "I think a barbarian is the ordinary type of man."

That's all right, Iddie, you weren't exactly referring to yourself, were you?

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Orville Prehn without Ruth M. Smith Miss Thelander cross Aggie Promen without a crush Kathryn Gores without her giggle Janet without her wise cracks Isabelle Husting with long hair George Calvy leaving his hair alone Florence Henning without Arlyle Kraemer Herman Radtke short and fat Marjorie B. with straight black hair Deane without his hot dance Hazel Hicken without a marcel Freelan Rosenburg not talking Marian Glasow without her Doll House(n) George McMillan with his class ring Buck Brunet serious Bob Born not talking to Mary Gruenheck Freddy Platz with a steady girl Ibby McCoy and Ernie Wagner passing up the bus Marge Keenan and Ob Husting not raving about Cookie Louise Hohensee without her line and voice Pat McCormick being on time Aggie Promen and Esther Halverson as real cheer-leaders. We always laugh at Deane's jokes
As hard, as hard can be.
Not because they're funny jokes,
But because it's policy.

Ursel Boudry: Say, but your jokes are a poor lot.

Joe Pilon: Oh, I don't know. I put a bunch of them in the stove and the fire just roared.

More Borrd Cell ou drive. Where sell we go how we dethe country club be?

Hi-Y Boy: Oh, I don't want to go to any of those roadhouse places.

Three little girls sat in the library,
Telling all they had to say;
Along came Miss Thelander and stood there beside them.
And lo! they all went away.

John Anderson: Got a cigarette? Ivan Rosenthal: Sure, wanna see it?

Margaret Dana: Why did they put Dick out of the game?

Ernestine Wagner: For holding.

Margaret Dana: Isn't that just like Dick?

Gordon O'Brien: Wow! every bone in my body aches. Herbert Benz: Better take some headache powders.

Robert Lohmiller: I'm as tall as you are.

Herman Radtke: You are not.

Robert L.: Well, I'm as tall the other way; my feet reach down as far as yours.

Shrimp Kennedy: Did you ever take chloroform? Dorothy Scherzinger: No, who teaches it?

Harley Gilboy (Getting sent out of the library): Do I need a slip? Ruth Hankwitz: No. she's probably expecting you.

IMPRESSIONS BY ANNE OBSERVER

Bob Born is a Semor; Mary Gruenheck is his friend; To her where'er she be, his presence does he lend.

Abie is a Senior; so is Aggie too. They always sit together; they must have work to do.

Dick and Gen are Semors, that is what they say.
Will they always go together? B' gosh, it seems that way.

We still have some bachelors and spinsters unattached; But by the time of graduation, we hope all will be matched.

Louie P. (in a restaurant): "Want me to show you a good after-dinner trick?" John L: "Sure."

Louie P: "You pay the cheek."

Helen Locks: You think of Morrie all the time-you know you do. Mary D: You mean for him, don't you?

Eleanor Briggs: Have you a minute to spare? John Murray: Sure. Why?

Eleanor Briggs: Tell me all you know.

Miss Lyons: What is the Civil War in China about? Edward Heister: The Chinese are fighting for free liberty.

ON THE ROAD TO OSHKOSH

Elaine: Step on the gas so we can get there in time for the game. Betsy: Which do they play first, the preliminary or the regular game?

Henry Ottery: Do you play on the piano? Geo. Calvy: No, I used to, but my mother made me stop. Henry Ottery: How is that?

Geo. Calvy: She was afraid I'd fall off.

What If?

There's many an if in Fondy High Some wise, some queer, some serious too So I will dig into this vast prob' And confide them all to you.

Now what if Ruth Cohn possessed a name Like "Mic" or even O'Brien? And Itty, that funny Irish chap, One like Rosenstein?

If Hazel Hickens didn't have That sweet, affected air, She'd still have her "perfect 36" And that would get her there.

Another thing that puzzles me Is what would happen if Whenever you thought of Gen You didn't think of Dick?

If Buddy Downs was great and tall, And Louie Peeke was short and small, Oble and Biz would have quite a time Looking up to him as their "Man o' Mine,"

If someone would choke Freeland When he pulls some dumb wise-crack, We'd willfully hire one and pay him To never bring him back.

If Mr. Thiesen would casually say,
"Come to school any time today,"
And Mr. Newell didn't look stern and grim
I surely guess we'd all cash in.

This ends the "What if" puzzle And all I have to say. Is that we can be thankful things Don't happen the "if" way.

DICK WATSON'S SCHEDULE

Can't study in the fall,
Gotta play football.
Can't study in winter,
Gotta play basketball.
Can't study in the spring,
Gotta play baseball.
Can't study in the summer,
Gotta girl.

Fremont B.: Yes, once I loved a girl; and she made a fool out of me. Ruth C.: My, what a lasting impression some girls make.

Mr. O'Connor: Didn't I tell you to notice when the solution boiled over? Norman Egelhoff: I did. It was a quarter past ten.

Miss Thelander: "Are late hours good for one?" Sappy S.: "No, but they are fine for two."

Mr. Cochrane: Genevieve, would you please elucidate on the next theorem? Genevieve G. (Awakening): Lose a date? I should say not!

Peg D.: "Wait till you see our new car! It has a clock, 'n a windshield wiper, 'n a spotlight, 'n it even has a statue on the radiator cap!"

Buck B.: "Gee! I'll bet a car like that has nice, shiny wheels, too!"

I love the touch of lipstick, The tea-hound said to Grace.

She blushed and shyly handed him Her little vanity case.

"My school-girl complexion has vanished," I heard her sadly say.
"A gust of wind came from the North And blew the drug-store away."

Insane Ike: "Hurrah! Hurrah! I'm a frog. All my ancestors croaked."

Kurt: Whisper something nice in my ear.

Betsy: I'm not hungry to-nite.
